Effective _____ your sixty (60) day MC+ for Pregnant Women postpartum healthcare coverage ended. As an uninsured woman, you are eligible for women's health services for up to two years after your postpartum coverage expires. Your eligibility for this coverage will begin effective _____ and continue through _____ unless you become eligible for another MC+ program or obtain other health insurance coverage.

Covered services include the following:

- Approved methods of birth control
- Sexually transmitted disease testing and treatment, including pap test and pelvic exams;
- Family planning counseling/education on various methods of birth control; or
- Drugs, supplies, or devices related to women's health services described above that are prescribed by a physician or advanced practice nurse.

0These services are to be obtained through state approved MC+ healthcare providers, as you will no longer be enrolled in managed care with a health plan. Call the Recipient Services Information Line at 1-800-392-2161 to find out about covered services or providers.

4 Your eligibility for other MC+ healthcare was explored. You did not qualify for Medical Assistance for Families or Custodial Parent healthcare coverage as income exceeded the allowable limits for the number of eligible children you reported in your home. (Rules 13CSR 70-4.090, 13CSR 40-2.120) We do not have any information that indicates eligibility for any other MC+ or medical assistance program.

6 You have the right to appeal decisions made involving your coverage. You can request a hearing within 90 days from the date of this notice by contacting your MC+ Services Representative. If you request a hearing you may present your information yourself or you may be represented by your own attorney or by other persons who know your situation. You have the right to present witnesses in your behalf and to question witnesses who appear at the request of the MC+ Service Representative.
