Summer Authorizations for School Age Children

Schools will be letting out soon for summer break and resource parents/guardians may need increased child care authorizations for school age children. When contacted, staff is to discuss summertime child care needs with resource parents/guardians and make any necessary changes promptly. Staff should remind resource parents/guardians if their child care needs change, they must contact their Children's Services Worker to report the change. DSS will only pay for authorized units of care.

All questions should be cleared through normal supervisory channels and directed to:
