ParentLink Warmline

Notification of the discontinuation of the Parental Stress Helpline (PSH) was published November 17, 2005 with Memo CD05-69. Several other professional resources to meet the needs of PSH users were listed in memo CD05-69.

An additional resource available is the ParentLink Warmline. This link provides contact information for answers to any parenting questions from birth through the teen years. The free information can be accessed via email, a toll free number, 1-800-552-8522 and the free loan library. There is also a Spanish speaking staff person available with a toll free number, 1-888-460-0008.

Staff are encouraged to share this valuable resource with all the families that are served by the Children's Division
